Wilson Bill Would Pay Debt With Use Municipal Profits

Would Retire Indebtedness of Street Improvement Districts

HAS CHANCE TO PASS

Proposed Bill Would Require Authorization From City Council

State Senator John L. Wilson has introduced in the senate a bill to authorize any municipality owning an electric power plant or water system, where such plant has no bonded indebtedness, to use the profit toward payment of outstanding bonded indebtedness of all street improvement districts within the limits of such municipality.

Before the profit can be used the city council of such a municipality would be required to pass an ordinance authorizing the expenditure of the profit from the power or water plant.

Senator Wilson said Saturday that he believed the bill had a good chance to pass.

Following is a copy of the bill:
S. B. No. 195 (Wilson) Cities and Towns Feb. 3.

A BILL
"FOR AN ACT TO BE ENTITLED: 'AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE MUNICIPALITIES OWNING ELECTRIC POWER PLANTS OR WATER SYSTEMS, WHERE SUCH PLANTS OR SYSTEMS HAVE NO BONDED INDEBTEDNESS, TO USE THE PROFITS, OR A PART OF THE PROFITS, OF SAID PLANTS OR SYSTEMS TOWARD THE RETIREMENT OF THE OUTSTANDING BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OF ALL STREET IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS WITHIN SUCH MUNICIPALITIES, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.'"

"BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS:

"Section 1. Any municipality owning an electric power plant or a water system, where such plant or system has no bonded indebtedness, is hereby authorized to use the profit derived from the operation of said plant or system toward the payment of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of all street improvement districts within the limits of such municipality, as hereinafter provided.

Require City Ordinance

"Section 2. The said profit from the operation of any electric power plant or water system within any municipality shall not be used toward the retirement of the bonded indebtedness of

54 Letters Entered in "King Paul" Contest; Best 3 Chosen

Fifty-four letters entered in The Star's "King Paul" contest, which closed last Wednesday, were canvassed by the newspaper staff Friday night—and the winners of the $5, $3 and $2 cash prizes are announced today.

The winners should identify themselves to the Star immediately, and the awards will be paid at the office.

First prize, $5: Mrs. P. J. Holt, Hope.

Second prize, $3: Edwin Salisbury, Washington Route One.

Third prize, $2: Helen Zumwalt, Blevins.

You recollect that when the serial story "King Without a Country" ended it left five courses open to King Paul. The contestants picked one of these courses for the king, and the judging was on the reasonableness of the contestant's explanation.

How did The Star's readers feel about the five courses? Well, here's how the 54 letter-writers voted:

King Paul returned to the lady Ardath ..... 17
He sailed to Guatemala ..... 13
He sailed to Maine to start a shipping fleet ..... 8
King Paul bought a ranch ..... 9
He sailed off, never to be seen again ..... 7

Of the 54 letters, 43 originated in Hempstead county, 9 in Nevada, and 2 in Howard. The Star especially thanks the contestants from Nevada county, and wishes one of the prizes might have gone there. Better luck next time!

Here are the prize-winning letters:

First Prize, $5: Mrs. P. J. Holt, Hope.

I think King Paul charted his course for Bay St. Francis and Ardath. How can one judge his future except from his past? If once he preferred Ardath and her unmotivated, drifting existence, to his throne, which entailed a life of responsibility and moral courage, he will prefer her to any new life that would require strength of character.

Second Prize, $3: Edwin Salisbury, Washington Rt. 1

I think Paul bought a ranch. He had a desire from early childhood to own a ranch and when the crisis came he chose this. His life with Ardath was a failure because their early lives were different and their tastes different. He didn't go to Guatemala because it was a remainder of former days that must be forgotten. His nature would choose the ranch rather than the shipping fleet.

Third Prize, $2: Helen Zumwalt, Blevins.

I think King Paul charted his course for Guatemala. My reason is that he wanted to get away from himself. Dr. Sanders had proved that he was intelligent and that archaeology was an interesting study. He went where he could forget the past yet do something of importance. He wasn't a quitter but went fighting his way to prominence again with Dr. Sanders' aid.

Grid Post at Junior College to Be Offered Bobcat Coach

TEXARKANA — Foy Hammons, coach of Hope High School, Friday was sounded out regarding the vacancy created by the resignation of J. E. Willis as coach of the Texarkana College Bulldogs, a member of the School Board said Friday afternoon.

At least three members of the college board favor Hammons if his services can be secured. Previously he has coached at Ouachita College and Monticello and also developed a national championship high school team at Pine Bluff.

Indications are that if Hammons is in a receptive mood, the position here will be offered him when the board meets Tuesday. Willis resigned to take a position on the coaching staff of Stephen F. Austin College at Nacogdoches, Texas.

Only one application for the post has been received. Joe Guillory, assistant coach to Jake Hanna at Gladewater (Texas) High School, telegraphed Tex-

Abuse of Girls by Spa Police Heard by State Probers

Impeachment Action Is Indicated After Hearing Friday Night

SEDUCTION CHARGES

Girl, 15, Tells of Immoral Conditions at the Hot Springs Jail

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(P)—Holding its first non-secret session, the house committee investigating law enforcement conditions in Hot Springs heard Friday night three inmates of the women's state reformatory at Alexander recite charges of immoral conditions in the Hot Springs jail and abuse of women prisoners by the resort's police force.

The committee said in formal statement issued shortly after 11 p. m. that "the testimony already before us is enough that we feel that impeachment proceedings are inevitable."

The three young women gave their names to the committee as Billy Blair, 24, Roxie Parker, 20, and Iva Lee Johnson, 20, all of Hot Springs.

Mrs. Helen D. McDonald superintendent of the state women's farm, called to testify immediately after the young women, said that the Parker girl was "an ideal inmate," but that the Blair and Johnson girls had been treated in the state hospital, for nervous diseases, while serving time at the farm.

She gave the testimony in answer to a question from John R. Thompson, committee attorney, inquiring about "the physical and mental conditions" of the three girls, all of whom claimed to have been mistreated by Hot Springs police.

Tells of Judge Witt

Another witness was Mrs. M. C. Hickman, Hot Springs, a registered nurse, who said she attended Judge Earl Witt, of the 18th judicial district in which Hot Springs is located. When Attorney Thompson pressed

Turned Brown By Brown Turner

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—What with the floods and so many children getting married in this country the last few weeks most of us have forgotten what the Spaniards are mad about, and didn't pay much attention to Hitler being in the market for real estate, and here in Tennessee the legislators want to put editors in jail of they print anything that's not true, but if they printed all the truth most of the legislators would be in jail themselves. There ought to be some sort of compromise on this thing.

Keep on having floods we'll soon have to develop gills and sprout fins if we ever get anywhere.

Linked With Heroism Chain Gang Forges Links to Imprison River

Walking, working, sitting, even in the hero's role on the Mississippi river levees at South Memphis, these chain gang convicts must wear the chains and heavy ankle irons decreed by Tennessee prison laws. The bags of sand the men carry hour after hour to strengthen the river wall against flood waters are tiring, but the chains are always an excuse for a plea to sit down for a moment's rest.

Plodding feet of a Tennessee convict chain gang walk into the breach to save the levees—and perhaps many lives—south of Memphis, where rising Mississippi flood waters were a constant threat. The work of these men, who are always under the eye of armed guards, brought suggestions they be rewarded with official pardons.

Rehabilitation in Flooded Area May Require 6 Months

Flood Crest on Mississippi at Memphis Expected This Week-End

RUIN IN MILLIONS

Task Surpasses Aftermath of San Francisco Fire Earthquake

By the Associated Press
A gigantic task of rehabilitation far surpassing the aftermath of the San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1906, forged ahead with quickening pace Saturday through the flood-ravaged Ohio river valley.

Federal and state officials counted the cost of the flood in fabulous millions.

All down the 1,000-mile trail from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., cleanup legions of WPA workers pushed the mud and muck-fouled debris back into the river.

Officials said that rehabilitation would require from three to six months.

Officials said that approximately 400,000 homes and buildings were damaged in the 12-day flood emergency period.

The Mississippi river rose to 43.07 feet at 9 a. m. Saturday at Memphis.

Takes a Lot of Pull to Put String of Puppets on Broadway

Today's Picture Story

"This suspense is awful," complains the "Wizard of Oz" as he hangs around in the wings, waiting for his cue to go on-stage and do his stuff.

Getting the actors on-stage is a string pulling job enough to baffle a politician—but it's easy for Arthur de Huff and other puppeteers of the Ellen Van Volkenberg marionette show. Above he tugs the scarecrow into the spotlight for a New York show.

What's this, puppet love? Appearance is deceiving as Tom Fairchild and Mary Moss get wires crossed to enable Dorothy to sit on the Lion's back. If wires get tangled, a scissor man will snip the snarl, for the puppet show must go on, too.

Once all the characters are on-stage, the puppeteers' most crowded moments begin. It would be fairly simple if the puppets could do their acting all in one spot, but they move around nearly as much as the Katharine Cornells and Burgess Merediths of Broadway. Then the scaffold becomes an amazing tangle of arms and bodies.

The amusing antics of the puppets on their miniature stage (top) is scarcely more interesting than the unseen show behind the curtain. And when the puppets have taken their final bows, there is the task of preparing for the stage again. Estelle Van Sooy (below) begins the task of inspecting and readjusting the actors.

Southern Methodist Whips Baylor, 26-15

DALLAS, Tex.—(AP)—J. D. Norton and Billy Dewell scored freely Tuesday night to give the Southern Methodist University cagers a 26 to 15 victory over the Baylor Bears.

The victory, watched by 2500 fans, stretched the Methodists' Southwest Conference lead to a full game over their nearest rivals, the Texas Aggies.

as a committee of one to see that at least one other person attends Sunday morning.

The pastor, speaking Sunday morning on the subject "Awakening Memories" will discuss the place and power of the Communion in the life of the Christian. Because of the busy hurly-burly of present day life Christians now need more than ever before the periods of quiet communion with our Lord and Master which comes at the Table. The regular observance of this memorial is of the utmost importance to the spiritual life of every Christian.

The time for the memorial of the Lord's Supper will be changed Sunday morning, and it will be observed at the close of the service, as is our custom. All Christians are invited to join us in the fellowship of the Table.

The monthly meeting of the Official Board of the Church will be held in the men's classroom at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. All elders and deacons should be present. The meeting will continue for one hour only.

The Junior Endeavor, meeting at 5 o'clock in the Bungalow, continue the series of studies on "Following Jesus." Dorothy Moore will lead the program Sunday, her topic being "We Will Serve Him." All Juniors are cordially invited.

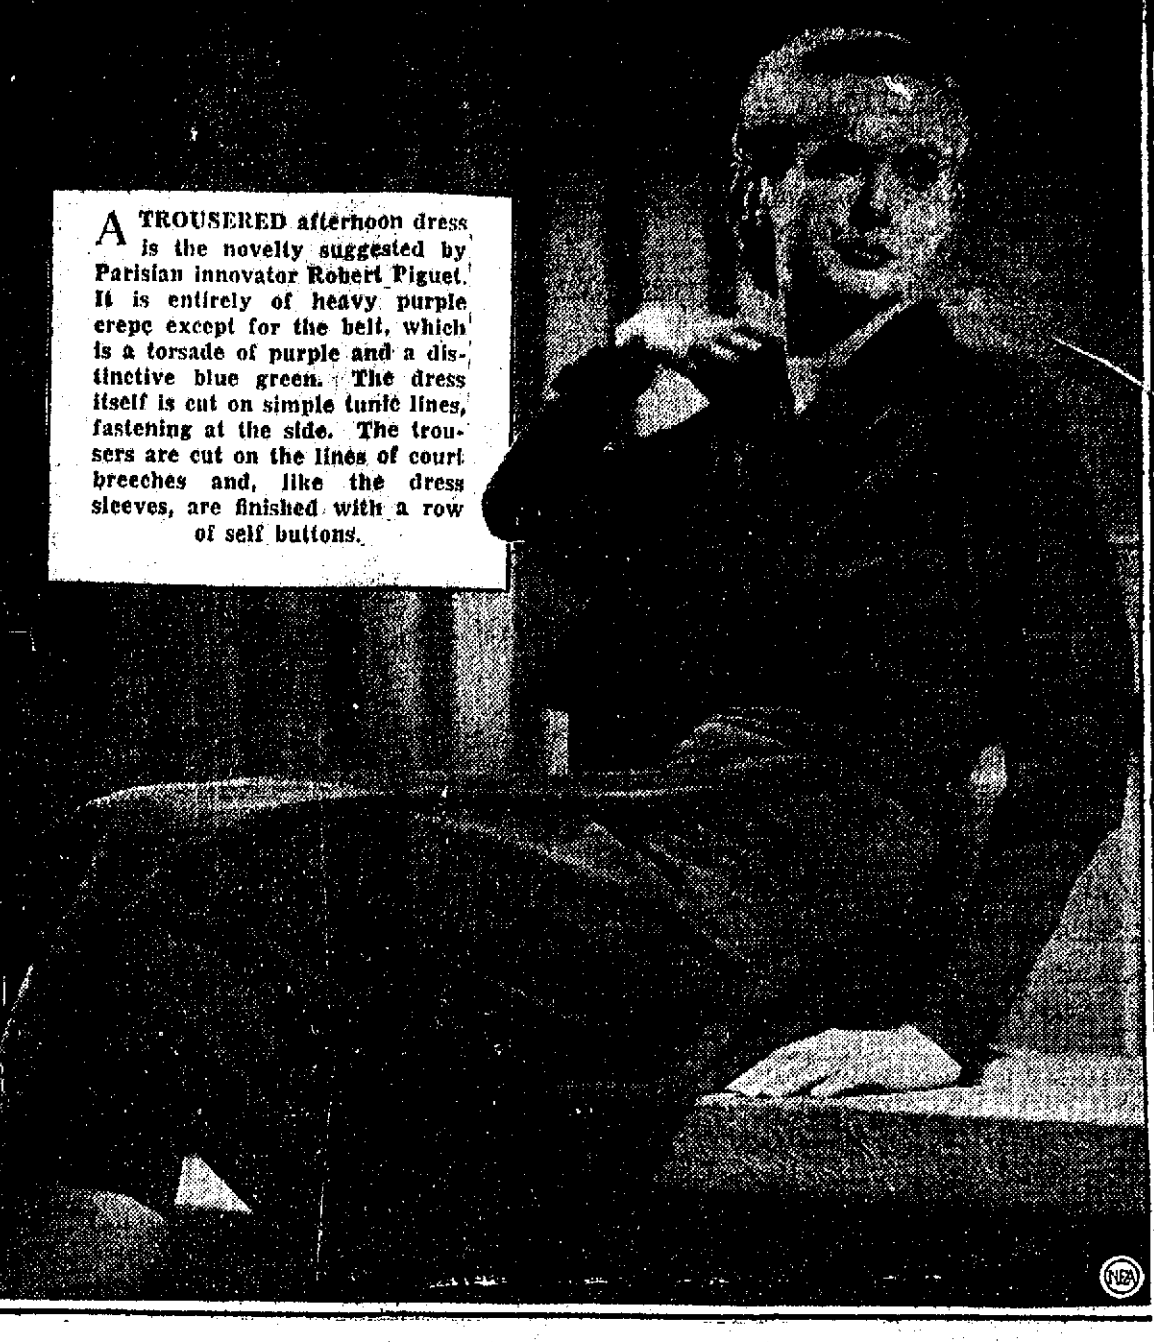

Sunday is Christian Endeavor Day, and the Senior Endeavor will meet at 6:45 in the Bungalow for a discussion of the topic "Christian Unity Face the Future Together." Plans will also be discussed for sending a delegation to the Youth Meet at Hot Springs on February 19-21. Miss Winnie Lee Floyd is program leader. All young folks are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

Following a twenty-minute song service beginning at 7:30 the pastor will speak Sunday night on the subject "What Is in Thy Hand?" During the last few years, in our anxiety to do everything in a "big" way, we have been overlooking the real values which may be found in the Christian way of meeting our everyday problems. In "hitching our wagon to a star" we have been in grave danger of forgetting what is in our hand. Too often, with all our high aims, we have missed everything fine, the thing that really counts in life.

For example, if there be one place where Christian parents should put the best foot foremost, that place is in their own homes, in their own family circles. It is a serious indictment against any father when his sons do not recognize any value in his religion, and a most serious indictment of any mother if her daughters do not think that her religion is the best in the world. The accent most of all needed to be pronounced in this day and age, in my humble opinion, throughout this great nation, is the accent on real Christianity in our homes. The average Christian home of today, instead of being a place of living epistles, known of all the family circle, is more like a "dead letter office."

You will be welcome in each service here Sunday.

Paris Trys on Its Latest Styles

THE open panel of the tunic type skirt creates a striking effect in Maggy Rouff's afternoon dress for the mature figure. A gold crepe satin tunic is worn over a dark brown satin sheath with matching belt. Note the draping of the bodice to the back of the neckline.

THERE'S no happy medium in smart Paris evening wraps—either they are long or short. Molyneux' handsome version of soft lightweight blue tweed quite sweeps the floor. It is lined with Bordeaux red velvet and is worn over a dull crepe dress in pale rose.

Third Measure to Cut Legislature

Reduction of Solons to 52 Proposed in the House

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—A third proposal to reduce membership of the Arkansas legislature appeared in the house Friday.

Rep. Joe Foster of Lonoke offered a resolution for submission of a constitutional amendment in 1938 to scale down the number of general assembly members from 135 to 52.

He proposed a house of 18 members, one from each judicial district, and a senate of 34, one from each senatorial district.

Earlier in the session the house defeated a joint resolution by Campbell of Garland to set up a unicameral or one-house legislature system of 50 members.

Machen and Hudnall of Columbia have a resolution pending in the house to limit house membership to 75, one from each county, and the senate to 25, districts to be fixed by the general assembly. The constitutional amendments committee returned it without recommendation.

The house acted Friday upon a score of bills and received 17 new ones before adjourning until 10 a. m. Monday.

It adopted, 75-0, a proposal by Abington of White to provide for payment of pensions to aged, blind, widows, orphans and others unable to obtain employment.

Abington said his bill proposed to carry out social welfare plans in cooperation with the federal government. The pensions would be paid on a half and half basis by state and federal governments through matching of $2000 to $5000 for married persons from $2000 to $1000 and double the rate for corporations from two to four per cent on net incomes after exemptions.

or for man and wife, $40 per month with payment jointly of $20 each.

Compensation of $30 monthly is set forth for the blind, while payments to widows with dependent children, orphans up to 14 years of age and eligible ex-service men would be paid not more than $30 monthly.

Reps. Wright of Clark and Coleman of Greene won adoption 75 to 0 of their bill to empower chancery and circuit courts to cope with dance halls declared to be nuisances by padlocking.

Coleman cited occurrences of "such nuisances" in his own county and said under the present laws officers could make arrests only in connection with disturbances at the places.

The house approved eight senate appropriation measures, including a $2-000,000 biennial highway turnback to counties. This bill was adopted, 81 to 0.

Butt of Carroll, in what he described as an economy move, gained passage 38 to 32 of an amendment to the senate appropriation bill for the state racing commission. Butt's amendment reduces the racing commission secretary's salary from $3600 to $3000 a year.

Senator Lake's measure proposing to levy a license tax on cash awards made at theaters on "bank night" came up for action in the house, but was withdrawn on a motion until next Tuesday.

Abraugh of Newton introduced a bill to permit operation of punch boards upon payment of 25 per cent of the gross amount of each board.

With the assertion that many workmen and professional men had been placed on relief, Rep. Toney of Jefferson introduced a measure to reduce the occupation tax from $25 to $10.

A bill for licensing funeral directors was introduced by Smith of Woodruff.

Cunningham of Hot Springs introduced an income tax bill to reduce exemptions for single persons from $2000 to $500, for married persons from $2500 to $1000 and double the rate for corporations from two to four per cent on net incomes after exemptions.

Woman Will Head New Department

Miss Gussie Haynie Is Offered Welfare Department Position

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The Arkansas Democrat will say Saturday that it had learned authoritatively that Miss Gussie Haynie, deputy Pulaski county prosecutor, had been offered the position of executive head of the new State Welfare department and that she probably would accept it.

"Miss Haynie is Governor Bailey's choice to head the welfare department," the newspaper will say. "She has been offered the post and she is expected to accept it," the article continued.

Butt of Carroll, in what he described as an economy move, gained passage 38 to 32 of an amendment to the senate appropriation bill for the state racing commission. Butt's amendment reduces the racing commission secretary's salary from $3600 to $3000 a year.

Martha Singleton to Represent Hope

Enters State Contest as Representative of the D. A. R.

Martha Ann Singleton has been chosen to represent Hope High School in the Good Citizenship Filmmaking contest, which is being sponsored by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Martha Ann's name was sent to the district chairman at Texarkana where a drawing was conducted on January 24, for the selection of the girl to represent the district. The name of the winner from this district will be submitted to the state committee which will make a final drawing for the representative of the state of Arkansas.

The lucky girl will attend the national meeting of the D. A. R. in Washington, D. C., in April with all expenses paid. She will be accompanied by the leader of the state organization.

Martha Singleton to Represent Hope

Enters State Contest as Representative of the D. A. R.

Martha Ann Singleton has been chosen to represent Hope High School in the Good Citizenship Filmmaking contest, which is being sponsored by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She was chosen by the faculty at a meeting on January 7, as being the most representative girl in the senior class excelling in the following: dependability, leadership, service and patriotism.

Martha Ann's name was sent to the district chairman at Texarkana where a drawing was conducted on January 24, for the selection of the girl to represent the district. The name of the winner from this district will be submitted to the state committee which will make a final drawing for the representative of the state of Arkansas.

The lucky girl will attend the national meeting of the D. A. R. in Washington, D. C., in April with all expenses paid. She will be accompanied by the leader of the state organization.

This opportunity is extended to every accredited white school in the United States.

This is one of the greatest honors that can be bestowed upon any girl in her school work.

Clean Up Work

Forecaster F. W. Brist had predicted that the river would not go to more than 48.2 feet. The stream rose three-tenths of a foot overnight at Helena.

Falls Above Memphis
MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—The Mississippi river fell by inches in its upper reaches pushing in vain against the levees, while up in the Ohio river country the task of rehabilitation went forward.

Every eye alert for signs of weakness in the 1,000-miles of embankment guarding the Mississippi crest stages, 120,000 men with picks, shovels and sandbags toiled through the night, strengthening the dikes and raising them higher.

The battle with the crests and debris and destruction left by the rapidly falling Ohio alike had the attention of Washington.

Proposals for dealing with the problem of flooding rivers may differ, but the country's leaders were agreed that money must not be spared in an effort to prevent a repetition of this year's disaster which already has cost 392 lives, caused $500,000,000 property damage and sent almost 1,000,000 citizens from their homes.

Principal interest centers in President Roosevelt's proposal for a $5,011,000,000 works plan, calling for flood control for the Ohio and Mississippi in combination with a six-year program of public works. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska would solve the problem by creating "enough TVA's to cover the entire country."

Commission at Louisville
President Roosevelt's flood commission reached Louisville, the city described by Chairman Harry Hopkins as "the worst spot in the entire picture."

With the Ohio falling from its source to Cairo where it empties into the Mississippi, and the latter stream beginning a slow recession below, Tennessee National Guardsmen continued their patrol of the levee front from Tiptonville, Tenn., to Hickman, Ky., fearful of possible attempts by Missourians to dynamite to relieve pressure on the other side.

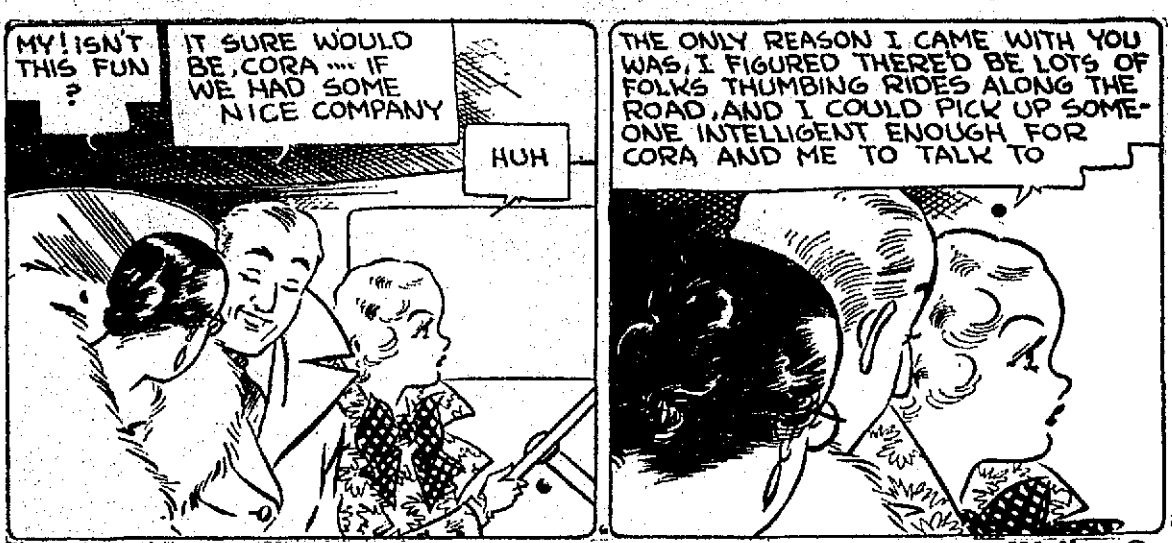

Watching the water edge slowly recede, but with a knowledge that the levee must be maintained unbroken back within its banks, industrial plants not far from the railroad service. Recovery evoked
